Special Guests:

George Tchobanoglous, Ph.D., University of Davis Professor Emeritus

George has over 40 years of experience in water, wastewater and recycled water technology and is currently a Professor Emeritus in the Department of Civil and Environmental Engineering at the University of California, Davis. He received a B.S. degree in civil engineering from the University of the Pacific, an M.S. degree in sanitary engineering from the University of California at Berkeley, and a Ph.D. from Stanford University in 1969. Dr. Tchobanoglous' research interests are in the areas of wastewater treatment and reuse, wastewater filtration, UV disinfection, aquatic wastewater management systems, wastewater management for small and decentralized wastewater management systems, and solid waste management.

He has authored or co-authored over 350 technical publications including 14 textbooks and four reference works. The textbooks are used in more than 225 colleges and universities, as well as by practicing engineers. The textbooks have also been used extensively in universities worldwide both in English and in translation. His books are famous for successfully bridging the gap between academia and the day-to-day world of the engineer.

He consults nationally and internationally to government agencies and private companies. He is a registered Civil Engineer in California and a member of numerous professional societies. He is a Past President of the Association of Environmental Engineers and Science Professors. Among his many honors, in 2003 Professor Tchobanoglous received the Clarke Prize from the National Water Research Institute. In 2004, he received the Distinguished Service Award for Research and Education in Integrated Waste Management from the Waste-To-Energy Research and Technology Council. In 2004, he was also inducted into the National Academy of Engineering. In 2005, he was awarded an honorary Doctor of Engineering from the Colorado School of Mines. In 2007, he received the Frederick George Pohland Medal awarded by AAEE and AEESP.
We’ve moved!

Effective December 7, 2009, the Sacramento Area Sewer District and the Sacramento Regional County Sanitation District will be located at a new, LEED-certified, “green” building at:

10060 Goethe Road
Sacramento, CA 95827

Staff from the Mather, Ecology and South Warehouse buildings will now be at this new location.* Please update your contact information.

You can continue to reach us at:
Phone: 916-876-6000
Fax: 916-876-6160

And for sewer problems, you should still call the District first at:
916-875-6730

For more information on our new building, please visit:
